

The Independent

SEPTEMBER 5, 2014

Measure T – a smokescreen

“Measure T’s claim that it will place decisions regarding the development of the area in the hands of the voter is a smokescreen to hide its real purpose – development. If voters really want the power to keep the area in open space, they will vote No on Measure T in November.”

Community Leaders & Environmental Groups Oppose Measure T

Tim Sbranti, Dublin Mayor
Don Biddle, Dublin Vice Mayor
Abe Gupta, Dublin Councilmember
Kevin Hart, Dublin Councilmember
David Haubert, Dublin Councilmember
Ayn Wieskamp, East Bay Regional Park District Director
Lynna Do, Dublin Planning Commissioner
Rameet Kohli, Dublin Planning Commissioner
Kasie Hildenbrand, former Dublin Vice Mayor
Dan Scannell, former President, Dublin San Ramon Services District
Amy Miller, Vice President, Dublin Unified School District
Kerrie Chabot, Board member, Dublin Sister City Association
Alan Brown, former Chair, Dublin Planning Commission
Morgan King, former Chair, Dublin Planning Commission
Anita Carr, Dublin Heritage & Cultural Arts Commissioner
Faye Guarienti, Chair, Dublin Senior Center Advisory Committee
Dave Bewley, Founder, Save Dublin Open Space
Kathy Campos, President, Sorrento HOA
Puran Moorjani, President, e-Infotek Solutions, Inc.
Shelley Wu, Save Dublin Open Space

Titles for identification purposes only.

Environmental groups:

Tri-Valley Conservancy
Save Mount Diablo
Ohlone Audubon Society
Friends of the Vineyards
California Native Plant Society
Alameda Creek Alliance
Sierra Club
Greenbelt Alliance

No on T
It's the developer's plan